

CHRIST CHURCH*Garden Street

Christ Church was designed by Peter Harrison, one of colonial America's most skilled gentleman-architects. The frame Georgian structure was built between 1757 and 1761 and is one of the finest surviving 18th-century religious buildings in New England. The relatively simple exterior belies the refined elegance of the interior, where six Ionic columns on each side support a tray ceiling. The church still houses an active parish.
